1. During November 1946, partisan groups hiding in the forests in the region of Lanout and the neighboring villages, such as Ponin, Geuchow, Wola Blizsza, wrecked seven rail convoys taking coal to Russia as well as nine motorized columns with food and war equipment. Part of the coal and food were distributed by the partisans among the local population.
2. On the night of 22 November partisans wrecked a Soviet motor column composed of 21 vehicles in a forest ambush on the road between Chodek and Bełzyce (Lublin district). Fifteen soldiers were killed, including the head of the column, Lt. Vagabov. This was a large convoy with sole leather being exported eastwards from Warsaw.
